

I would hope that we can go to a partial ala carte arrangement of channels. I have no interest in 80 percent of the channels that I have; I would prefer to choose my own channels, but at the very least there should be more choices of groupings. Each time charter communications add some new channel or rearranges them, they charge more whether I want it or not. Also, the cable companies should be required to provide the weather channel to all subscribers as a basic channel. My cable bill is now over $61 a month, for channels that I never watch and in which I have no interest, and have been forced on me by the cable company.
